Threat intelligence provider partners

Better together with Silo's dynamic context-based isolation

Secure access to intelligence across the surface and dark web

SOC and threat intel analysts rely heavily on the external threat information surfaced by their intelligence providers. When the signal is strong, analysts want to conduct a deeper investigation for greater context of the source and threat. By the very nature of the intelligence, these investigations lead to engagement with potentially malicious actors and content.

By integrating Silo's API, partners can extend intelligence offerings to include dynamic, context-based isolation for accessing risky content. Our isolation API allows for:

- Access to a globally-scaled, purpose-built secure and anonymous research network
- Easy partner integration into specific workflows — inclusive of granular logging
- Seamless user experience within local browser — no software or downloads required

Provide risky intelligence isolation

- Direct all web links or those deemed untrusted or unknown into isolation
- Restrict actions to limit data leakage due to human error or carelessness
- Seamless user experience with no client software required

Partner with Authentic8

Authentic8 is a pioneer in web isolation holding 25 U.S. patents. We operate a globally scaled, cloud-native, multi-tenant security platform that's validated by the most elite arms of the national security community and the Fortune 1000. Our highly configurable architecture provides partners with access to multiple products, use cases, adoption methods and form factors.

The Authentic8 Technology Partner Program includes:

- A commitment to a partner go-to-market model
- The option to brand the isolation experience as your own
- Flexible licensing options suited to your use cases
- Collateral and field training support to ensure success

Want to learn more about partnering with Authentic8? We'd love to chat!

Silo by Authentic8 separates the things you care about like apps, data and devices from the things you can't trust like external websites, users and unmanaged devices. With a cloud-native platform, full isolation and complete policy and audit control, Silo enables full use of the web without risk of exploit, data leak or resource misuse.

+1 877-659-6535
www.authentic8.com